Three Physicians Treated Him
Without Success.

W. L. Yancy, Paducah, Ky., writes: "I had a severe case of kidney disease and three of the best physicians in Kentucky treated me without success. I then took Foley's Kidney Cure. The first bottle gave immediate relief, and three bottles cured me permanently. I gladly recommend this wonderful remedy. Sold by A. R. Fisher."

SWEEPING OPINION.

License Required to Sell Cheese,
Crackers, Sausage, Etc., Says
Attorney General.

County Clerk F. G. Corley has just received a letter from N. B. Hays, Attorney General of the State, holding that a license is necessary for merchants to sell eatables in the form of lunches. The letter is in the following language: "We are of opinion that any one who sells cheese, crackers, sausages, and the like to the public as eatables or as meals comes within the provisions of the law as one keeping a restaurant, and is liable for the tax provided under the revenue law. We are also of opinion that a license to sell soft drinks is only for the county in which such license is issued and not elsewhere." The opinion is sweeping in its nature, and will affect numerous merchants over the country who sell cheese, oysters, crackers, etc., to be eaten as lunches.

The license fee is $5 plus $150, the clerk's cost of issuing.

Following The Flag.

When our soldiers went to Cuba and the Philippines health was the most important consideration. Willis T. Morgan, retired Commissary Sergeant U. S. A., of Rural Route 1, Concord, N. H., says: "I was two years in Cuba and two years in the Philippines, and being subject to colds, I took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which kept me in perfect health. And now, in New Hampshire, we find it the best medicine in the world for coughs, colds, bronchial troubles and all lung diseases. Guaranteed at Short & Haynes druggists. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free."

ROUTE OF NEW RAILROAD.

Since the letting of the contract for the construction of the Madisonville, Hartford & Eastern railroad, considerable curiosity has been aroused as to the exact route of the new road. The following from the Hartford Herald of Wednesday gives the desired information:

Starting at Madisonville the road will pass near Anton, in Hopkins county. It will pass between Sacramento and Bremen in Muhlenberg county, coming within about a mile of the latter place. It will cross the O. & N. railroad at Hendricks and Green river at Smallhouse. From Centertown it will come on to Hartford. The Hartford depot will be located, it is said, the southeast end of Liberty street, and near what is known as the Massie residence. It will be a handsome edifice.

Going east the road will cross the Beaver Dam road near G. W. Bunker's, coming within a few feet of a corner of his shop. It will take a north-easterly direction at Hartford, passing to the right of the old water mill. The first stop after leaving Hartford will be Sunnysdale. From there it will go to Dundee, where it will cross Rough river. Leaving Dundee it will go to Mitchell's where it will join the L. H. & St. L., commonly known as the "Texas" road. The entire distance of the road will be fifty-five and a half miles. Nice passenger stations will be erected at the different stopping places, and the best of work will be required in its construction. It will be of great benefit to the section of country which it passes, and to Hartford, whose people have wanted a railroad so long.

The Size of the Armory.
Louisville, Ky., June 16th.

Friend Sterett:—During the "Home-Coming" I heard several persons asking as to the size of the Drill Hall of the Armory. I have made inquiry of the architect, who says the building entire is 201 by 366½ feet and the Drill Hall is 200 by 273 feet. Probably this may be of interest to your readers, who were here and inside the building.

Respectfully,

Farmers Sell Wheat.

Boonville, Ind.—The wheat belonging to the farmers of the American Society of Equity has been sold. The farmers began to haul it in although not a word had been given out that it had been sold. Later it leaked out the Ballard & Ballard, of Louisville, Ky., were the purchasers, it being bought for that firm by Robert Richards, of the Hardy & company firm at Rockport. Gurley Taylor, a prominent farmer living near Boonville, made the deal, but when asked the rice per bushel, he refused to answer. It is said that he received about 86 cents per bushel. Taylor is general superintendent and corresponding secretary of the society.

Possibilities of Dry Farming.

From John L. Cowan's "Dry Farming—the Hope of the West" in the July Century.

Estimates of the amount of land that can be reclaimed by irrigation vary all the way from 50,000,000 acres up to 125,000,000 acres, with the weight of authoritative opinion decidedly favoring the lower figure. Yet if 1 per cent. of the money now being expended for irrigation works were made available for the education of the people who ought to be interested in dry farming, it is probable that five hundred million acres of land—perhaps more than that—could be reclaimed from its present unproductive and comparatively worthless state just as rapidly as settlers, whether native born, or immigrants from foreign countries, could be taken to it.

Figures On Farms

If you could sell your farm today for $100 an acre and buy it back tomorrow for $10 an acre,
You would do it.

If you can buy the $100 land for $10 somewhere else, the proposition is just as good. You can buy it in the Southwest.

Why shouldn't you do it?
